

Library Affairs

NTT Promotion Standards / Criteria

Eligible NTT faculty must demonstrate sustained excellence and innovation in Teaching / Librarianship as shown by indicators relevant to academic librarianship. There are numerous activities we value for members of the library faculty as components of Teaching / Librarianship. Some examples, but not an exhaustive list, are provided below.

Teaching / Librarianship Activities

- Reference or research assistance.
- Classroom teaching.
- Library instruction.
- Collection development.
- Liaison and outreach activities.
- Bibliographic acquisition, organization, and control.
- Creating and maintaining documentation, such as policies and procedures.
- Supervisory assignments.
- Coordination and management of services.
- Technological support and programming.
- Web development
- Archival activity.
- Curator activity.
- Materials preservation and conservation activity.
- Supervision of a student's practicum.
- Substantial thesis and/or dissertation research consultation.
- Curricular or course-delivery collaboration activity with academic faculty.
- Professional development activities, e.g., coursework, workshops, and continuing education.
- Participation on doctoral, master's or honors thesis committees.
